DADS AND SONS TO GO ON OUTING

Will Take Three-day Holiday
About Middle of July

A three-day outing for fathers and sons on the mountain at South Fork canyon, in which one thousand persons are expected to participate, is being arranged by the Mutual Improvement Association of Weber Stake. The outing will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday, July 23, 24 and 25. Women members of the families will take part in the observance of Pioneer day at the camp.

As now outlined, the schedule calls for departure on trains to Huntsville on the morning of July 23. At that time and during the life of the camp a transportation system between Huntsville and the grounds will be maintained by wagon and automobile. Facilities for fathers who must attend to work in the city each day will be provided. On the last day, the mothers, wives, sisters and sweethearts of the campers will be met at Huntsville and be taken to the camp in time for breakfast. In remembrance of pioneer days, athletic sports and games will occupy the greater part of the program. A schedule for the Boy Scouts present will also be carried out.

High Holdaway, deputy scout commissioner, is chairman of the central committee, other members being W. H. Reeder, Jr., W. S. Payne, M. Charles Woods, Claude W. H. Herbert, B. Smith and Castle H. Boys Help Farmers
Thin Sugar Beets

Nearly fifty boys departed this morning for beet fields near Morgan, and as the result, the state of applicants at the juvenile court has been materially reduced.

The boys will be paid $12 per acre for thinning beets, it is said they average around half an acre a day. Because of the shortage of labor in Morgan county, high wages are being paid. The Amalgamated Sugar company is also said to be seeking boys for this work.

Until this season, there was never so great a sugar beet acreage as present in Morgan, and because of this fact, beet growers are experiencing difficulty in procuring adequate help for the thinning of the beets.

"POP" ANSON IN CITY EN ROUTE

Veteran Ball Player Going to Coast on Vaudeville
Tour

W. "Pop" Anson, old time baseball player, was an Ogden visitor for a short time today, en route to the coast in company with his two daughters. The trio are scheduled to open a two week's engagement at a San Francisco vaudeville house next week. For a number of years Anson has been on the stage, starting before the thousands of theatergoers, but stated today that he would retire after the present season.

"I may be old and a 'has been,'" said Anson today, "but believe me I surely have lots of pep left. I enjoy a baseball game more than any other branch of sport, and where time will permit I always go to the ball parks throughout the country to see the boys in action."

"The two major leagues are putting up a stubborn race for honors, but I am sure that the New York Yankees, in the American league, and the Chicago Cubs, in the National league, will be the teams slated to battle for the world title next October. Babe Ruth has added considerable strength to the Yanks, and will be a factor in their winning."

Anson stated before departing that he had been offered several positions scouting for various big league clubs.

Brigham Sugar Beet Acreage Increased

BRIGHAM, June 16.—Inspection of the beet fields of Box Elder county by Mark Austin, Utah-Idaho Sugar company general field superintendent, and George Huss of the Central Cattle and Horse Raisers' association, recently completed. Mr. Huss, who is in charge of the beet raising in this section this year for the two factories here. That means there is over twenty thousand acres in the Garland district and over six thousand acres in the Brigham factory district.

The beets are now looking fine and can stand another ten days of dry weather without injury to the crop. A fair estimate of tonnage this year, placing it plenty low, and sugar selling at $15 per bag wholesale, means that the farmers will receive $16 per ton for their beets, it is said. A total tonnage of 240,000 will bring in around numbers $3,840,000.

CANNED FOODS TO BE INSPECTED

Agreement on Cooperations
Reached in Meeting of U. S.,
State and Canners' Men

At a meeting of representatives of the Utah Canners, the National Canners and state dairy, food and drug commissioner, Walter N. Boyden, held today in the offices of the Utah and National Canners' association, the cooperation of the state in working with the two organizations in canning inspection work was perfected, according to A. S. Dagget, director of inspection for Utah of the National Canners' association.

"The state will in every way cooperate with us," said Dagget, "and in the future inspections starting next Monday will be made every day in every canner in the state, regardless of location. Our men will start their daily inspections next week and with the state officials aiding us in this work and in obtaining better products in canned goods for the people."

The meeting was conducted by A. S. Dagget and the following were in attendance: Walter N. Boyden, food commissioner of Utah; A. S. Dagget, George Shorten, William Terry, Dr. C. C. Pugmire, Thomas Fenton, William G. Barton, H. D. Olsen, H. L. Herrington and President Gage Hochman of the Utah Canners' association. The local organization of the national canners' organization will hold inspections throughout the state for all brands of canned goods.

Mr. Dagget announced today that Leslie Smith, formerly associated with the Utah Canning company, will have charge of the new laboratories to be opened here in the near future.

TO FINISH DEE HOSPITAL WORK

Modern Facilities to Be Provided in Addition Now
Being Built

Work on the addition to the Dee hospital is fast nearing completion, according to W. W. Rawson, superintendent of the hospital. The first floor of the new building will be ready for use about July 1, while the entire building will be ready for occupancy about August 1. When completed the structure will cost $110,000.

Several modern improvements have been made in the new structure, among them being maternity quarters, five new operating rooms, kitchen, linen room and a modern laundry department. Besides these new improvements forty-two rooms will be ready for use for patients.

A lavatory costing several thousand dollars and made up entirely of new features will be installed during the coming month.

"In every particular the new addition will be in the clear, and any in the west," said Mr. Rawson today. "The contract for the plastering was let yesterday afternoon to the Ogden Plastering Supply company, the work to be rushed to completion."

Contest Adoption of Orphaned Boy and Girl

Hearing of the petition of William A. Koldewyn and Emma Koldewyn for the adoption of two minor children, Parley A. Butler, 3, and Elma Butler, 4, began this morning in the district court before Judge A. W. Agee. The adoption of the children by Koldewyn is being contested by George H. Butler, grandfather and guardian of the children.

The parents of the children, Mr. and Mrs. G. Butler, both died during the influenza epidemic in December, 1918. Mrs. Koldewyn, who was a sister of the mother of the children, immediately made plans for adoption. The present guardian and grandfather contested the petition and a settlement is expected as a result of the present hearing.

Judge George S. Barker is representing the petitioners and N. J. Harris the contestants.

Rotarians Take in Three New Members

Three Ogdenites, C. S. Gunnell of the Pacific Express company, Harry Geo. Ogden Wholesale Dry goods company, and George Huss of the Central Cattle and Horse Raisers' association, were taken into the regular weekly meeting of the organization held at the Weber club today.

President Glen, recently elected, officiated in his new position. He also E. S. Hinckley, vice president; H. P. Merrill, secretary, and Robert E. Binford, treasurer, were present. The Rotary club will start a drive in Ogden immediately to secure new memberships among the business interests of the city to the Ogden Chamber of Commerce. Every Rotarian will aid in this work, according to President Glen. The chamber now has 200 business firms listed and it is hoped that that number will be doubled before the campaign closes.

Brief Downpour Is Relief to Dry Crops

Bringing temporary relief to gardens, sugar beets and other growing vegetation which has been suffering from dryness during the past two weeks, a brief rainstorm swept Ogden and vicinity this morning after noon today. Intense wind preceded the storm and interrupted telephone and telegraph service between Ogden and Salt Lake and Ogden and Provo.

The rain fell heavily for five minutes and although it was not of sufficient duration to completely restore vegetation to condition it aided greatly.

Thunder and lightning accompanied the rain and caused a rush to cover of persons in the downtown streets.

FISHING FAIR SAYS WARDEN

Few Caught Limit But Nearly Everybody Got Some

"Fishing conditions in Weber county are only fair, but will be better with the clearing of the streams within a week or ten days," said W. H. (Buck) Anderson, county game and fish warden, who returned this morning after a survey of streams.

"Practically everyone fishing yesterday caught some fish, but there were not unusually big catches. The largest yet reported at two and one-quarter pounds," Mr. Anderson said.

"A few anglers in the streams tributary to the Ogden river caught the limit, but they were not numerous," declared Mr. Anderson. "But there were but few persons who did not catch a few at least."

"The water is hardly yet clear enough for fly fishing and in the upper streams most of the catches were made with sink bait. It was also found that the morning fishing was unusually short and most of the catches were made within thirty minutes' time around 5 o'clock. Later there were practically no catches until evening."

"In South Fork the fishing lasted about one hour in the morning and most of the anglers returned home to twenty fair-sized fish. Two were caught that weighed approximately two and one-quarter pounds. Although small, there were more caught yesterday than on the opening day last year."

"In one hole in South Fork two men caught thirty-two trout with sink bait in the early morning. Several caught the limit in lower South Fork."

"Most of the fish in the morning were caught with sink bait and flies or spinners were apparently of little use in the upper streams. Toward evening, however, it is reported that fly fishing was fairly good. The water is not yet clear enough for ideal fly fishing and will not be before a week or ten days."

"There were only five arrests yesterday for violations of the law. Only one person was taken into custody for fishing without a license. Two others, both minors, were arrested for trespass and two for fishing in restricted streams."

"The activities of the members of the Weber Rod and Gun club is largely responsible for the great decrease in violations this year. Every member is a deputy fish and game warden and there was hardly a fishing area in the county where at least one member was not present. They prevented much fishing the night before the opening of the season and reported others who would not abide by the fish laws."

Mr. Anderson said there were approximately 500 fishing licenses issued in the county this year.

SOMEONE GOT HIS GOAT; SO POOR JOE
MOURNS TO COPS

"Someone got my goat," Joe Solterius ejaculated at the police station this morning, "since Friday they be not home at all."

"Yeh?" said the desk sergeant, "what did they do to get your goat?"

And after considerable parley, it was determined that Solterius had actually suffered the loss of his goat, not only his goat, but three little kids as well.

Three of the missing animals were white, while the third was a nice shade of red.

Joe said he purchased the Nanny about three months ago, and was using it in place of a cow. He claimed that the lady goat produced nearly a gallon of milk daily.

The theory was advanced at the police station this morning that some culprit had annexed the goats with the view of selling them to a perfume factory.

MAY GET SUGAR FOR CANNERS

Gage Rodman Back From Coast, Says Argentine Product May Save Crops

Canners throughout the United States will probably receive enough sugar from the Argentine republic to carry on the industry this year, according to President Gage Rodman of the Utah Canners' association who has just returned from San Francisco.

Mr. Rodman stated today that the government is negotiating for sugar for the canners throughout the country and that action on the situation is expected immediately. Mr. Rodman's hurried trip to San Francisco was made in the interest of the local canners. He held consultations with coast canners while on the coast and the outlook and stated that the California canners, too, are asking the government to aid them in obtaining sugar from the Argentine republic.

Officer Gets Drink;
Raid Soon Follows

An officer knocked at a door in the Claire rooming house, was admitted, and ordered a glass of whiskey. He paid fifty cents for a small "shot," and at an early hour this morning, A. Matt's room was raided and three and a half gallons of whiskey were removed, the police say.

The liquor, it is alleged, was discovered hidden under the floor of Matt's room, a trap door having been arranged in an ingenious fashion. This whiskey was said to be of home-manufactured variety. Matt, after being arrested, was released on $250 bail. Two charges, one of having liquor in his possession, and another of selling liquor, were preferred against him. He will appear in the city court tomorrow.

Potter Gets Herd of Holstein Calves

Clifford Potter, proprietor of the Potter's Cafe, and also of the Potter's farm at Pleasant View received five head of two-year-old registered Holstein heifers this morning from Minnesota. It was announced at the Weber county fair bureau today. The animals were natives of a number of buyers in Cache county, as well as Mr. Potter.

They arrived in Ogden this morning together with a shipment of 35 head of pure bred Holstein stock which was purchased by Cache county dairymen. Richard Funk of Richmond and George Caine purchased the cattle, acting as representatives for a number of buyers in Cache county, as well as Mr. Potter.

A return game will be played here late in the summer when the Portlanders return from the east.

Saturday afternoon the Brigham City nine will mix with the locals in a regular league game. The "Peaches" are coming prepared to battle, according to advance dope.
